

Cell Tower Denied at Julius West Middle School

Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) Superintendent Jerry Weast has recommended against leasing space at Julius West Middle School for a 50-foot tall cell tower ("monopole"). The recommendation follows opposition to the pole from members of the community surrounding the school. The Mayor and Council also sent a letter to Weast opposing the tower. An MCPS memo stated that neither the school principal nor the PTA supported the monopole installation, and that an automated survey of parents, teachers, and administrators indicated that 47 percent opposed the proposal, 31.8 percent supported it, and 21.2 percent neither supported nor opposed it. T-Mobile had proposed the tower, and the City's Board of Appeals had approved a Special Exception for it. However, since the property is owned by MCPS, it has final say on whether to lease it. Public Will Be Asked For Input About Baltimore Road Upgrades

Baltimore Road represents a critical link for neighbors east of Rockville's Town Center. Baltimore Road, a "through-city" route system, allows residents to drive, walk, and take transit to other areas of the city. In the coming months, the City will be asking residents to offer input on preliminary plans to upgrade the road.

In response to safety concerns and the public's request, Rockville completed a study in 2001, which indicated Baltimore Road needed several upgrades. In addition to raising the intersection at Baltimore and Woodburn roads, and adding an eight-foot multipurpose path between Twinbrook Parkway and Gladstone Drive, several more upgrades are necessary to bring this roadway up to City standards. In 2001 the City received support for the project from the surrounding neighbors. In 2006, the City received a $4.0 million federal grant to construct the project. Input from people who use the Baltimore Road Corridor will be instrumental to the final design plans.

Some key improvements planned are: improve mobility and safety along Baltimore Road corridor; extend sidewalks; add curbs and gutters to protect pedestrians from traffic and improve drainage; upgrade substandard bike paths and connect them to the Rock Creek Regional Trail; reconfigure the road to accommodate on-street parking while also buffering pedestrians and bicyclists from traffic; add street lights to illuminate pedestrian facilities; use traffic calming designs to slow traffic and improve pedestrian safety; and improve stormwater management and landscaping.

Project design is expected to take about a year to complete. The project construction will be completed in two phases. The first phase is slated to begin in the early summer of 2009. For more information on this project please call Project Manager Nazar Saleh at 240-314-8507. RR

Rockville Pike Corridor Contract Approved

In June, the Mayor and Council unanimously approved a contract award for the update of the Rockville Pike Corridor Plan. The contract was awarded to American Communities Partnership Visioning and Planning (ACP).

ACP will develop a recommended updated plan for the Rockville Pike Corridor with several key elements in mind. ACP aims to improve transportation circulation, develop a quality environment, incorporate park and urban open space, analyze economic opportunities and actively engage public opinion and input. In addition, ACP plans to link public involvement to strategic planning, from both a regional and neighborhood scale.

ACP has 30 years of national experience as a consultant firm with relevant experience in citizen participation, facilitation, and outreach. It is committed to integrating public input and technical analysis, and has recently received the first American Vision Award from the American Planning Association.

The process will start in September 2007 and will continue through May 2009, with an extensive public involvement process throughout. The process will involve various official reports to the community, directly from ACP.

A critical element of the process is a five-day charrette that will take place in July 2008. A charrette enables consultants, staff and all interested parties to explore alternatives, compile results, and present their findings to the public.

The Rockville Pike long-term plan has not been updated since 1989, and its revision is a priority of Rockville's Mayor and Council. RR

ROCKVILLE NEIGHBORS... Uniting with each other, celebrating their community and enjoying a 'night out'

Enjoy a 'Night Out' Against Crime On Aug. 7 Annual National Night Out Event Planned

Enjoy a hamburger, lemonade and meet your neighbors as the 24th annual National Night Out hits Rockville on Tuesday, August 7. National Night Out is a cooperative partnership between communities and local police departments to unite against crime and drugs in neighborhoods.

Each year more than 50 Rockville neighborhoods organize block parties for their residents, providing a healthy, safe environment for families to unite outside, meet one another and speak with Rockville City Police officers and local officials. At “America's Night Out Against Crime,” The Rockville City Police Department will have plenty of giveaways to accommodate younger participants, including Frisbees, hacky sacks, cups and other exciting gifts.

“National Night Out is the perfect opportunity for children to come out and meet police officers,” said Community Services Officer Ken Davis. “We like to meet all of our residents, and especially children who do not have an opportunity to interact with the police. It shows them that we are approachable, and we are there to help them.”

Rockville's outstanding participation in National Night Out is representative of other communities' participation on a national level.

According to the National Night Out organization, more than 34 million people participated in the campaign last year, including citizens, law enforcement agencies, civic groups, businesses, neighborhood organizations and local officials from more than 10,000 communities from all 50 states, U.S. territories, Canadian cities and military bases worldwide.

“We certainly welcome the participation,” said Rockville City Police Chief Terry Treschuk. “Historically our residents look forward to this event. This year will be no different.”

The general time for block parties is 6:30 until 9 p.m. For more information contact Officer Davis at 240-314-8922. RR

Rockville Up Close: Peerless Rockville to Restore Frieda's Cottage at Chestnut Lodge

You are Cordially Invited To Frieda's Cottage

DATE: Monday, July 30, 2007

TIME: 10 a.m.

PLACE: 19 Thomas Street

Open a new chapter in the history of Chestnut Lodge with the transfer of ownership to Peerless Rockville.

Hear plans for restoration, meet the preservation team, plant an elm tree in honor of the 100th anniversary of Bartlett Tree Experts and tour the cottage.

For more information and to RSVP: 301-762-0096 or www.peerlessrockville.org

Frieda's Cottage, the charming historic house on the grounds of Chestnut Lodge, will undergo a renovation that will restore it to its former glory.

Peerless Rockville is happy to announce its plans for restoration of Frieda's Cottage, a charming historic house on the grounds of Chestnut Lodge Sanitarium in Rockville's West End. Frieda's Cottage was the office and residence of Dr. Frieda Fromm-Reichmann from its construction in 1936 until her death in 1957. Deeded to Peerless Rockville recently as part of the redevelopment of Chestnut Lodge, the house has been vacant for seven years. On July 30, Peerless Rockville will introduce the preservation team, accept an elm tree for the property, and open the cottage to the public for the first time. Chestnut Lodge was an internationally renowned psychiatric institution for nearly a century. Dr. Fromm-Reichmann, a pioneer in the humane treatment of individuals with mental illness, developed the hospital's specialty in psychotherapy of psychotic patients. She inspired a generation of young psychiatrists through her work, teaching, and writings. A fictionalized account of Frieda's work in I Never Promised You a Rose Garden, had a powerful, positive effect on public perception of mental illness and its treatment. Frieda's Cottage is a classic example of 1930s Colonial Revival design by a master architect and a master builder in a suburban environment. Designed specifically for Dr. Fromm-Reichmann, over time it has experienced limited alteration in both structure and in setting. Peerless Rockville will restore Frieda's Cottage to the period when she resided and practiced psychiatry at Chestnut Lodge. Exterior restoration begins immediately with repairs to the siding and slate roof and painting. As part of its commitment to provide an example of good preservation practices, Peerless is planning workshops on restoration and maintenance topics. Peerless encourages the public to participate in work sessions, serve on advisory committees, and to assist the project through cash and in-kind donations. Peerless plans additional opportunities for the fall. More information can be found on www.peerlessrockville.org or by calling 301-762-0096.

Frieda's Cottage is a contributing structure in Rockville's West Montgomery Avenue Historic District and is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Peerless Rockville was founded in 1974 to preserve and promote Rockville's history and historic places. Peerless also owns historic Montrose Schoolhouse on Randolph Road and the Baptist Cemetery on West Jefferson Street. Its research library in the historic Red Brick Courthouse in Rockville Town Center is open to the public Tuesday-Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. RR

Rockville Names Anthony Ruffin as Communication Officer

Anthony Ruffin will serve as the City of Rockville's Communication Officer, beginning Monday, July 30. Ruffin, who has more than 15 years of experience in print media, television and public relations, will oversee the City's communication efforts and will act as the City's main contact person for the news media. He will lead the City's overall communication to increase engagement of residents and customers by overseeing all communications, including the Web site, printing and graphics and content of The Rockville Channel. He also will distribute press releases, respond to public information requests and manage Rockville Reports. Ruffin has extensive experience working in the communications field, both in the private and public sector. Having most recently served as the Communications Manager for Anne Arundel Co. Public School, Ruffin also filled the role of Supervisor of Internal Communications for Prince George's County Public Schools. He has experience as a reporter for The Newark Star-Ledger and

The Syracuse Post-Standard as well as writing and producing experience at WTTG-TV (Fox-5) in Washington, D.C. "I am honored to have the opportunity to work for the City," said Ruffin. "I believe my background in public education has allowed me to learn how to communicate effectively with many diverse groups. I know that the citizens of Rockville are highly interested in the work of their City government and that they are engaged in our efforts. I am looking forward to doing my part to continue to foster the positive relationship that exists between the citizens and the City." "Tony is talented and enthusiastic, and emerged as the successful candidate from a rigorous selection process," said Catherine Tuck Parrish, Deputy City Manager. "His talent will enable us to be more strategic in our methods and effectiveness of two-way communication with our residents. I know he will continue the strong tradition of keeping the public and news media informed. RR
